

Seize the Day

Vicki Coon
UAEOP President

What a wonderful time of the year! Offices are decked out with decorations, classrooms are buzzing with holiday activities. Concerts and programs are being performed by students giving us opportunities for celebration. Schools are preparing Sub for Santa, district offices are gathering items for sharing at this time of year. Semesters and quarters are ending for our school kids, as well as for some of us. Activities for sharing and caring!

Often we get stressed and find our energy waning as we hustle and bustle to keep up with work, family, the seasonal activities, and personal care. The following are a few fantastic ways to beat stress and help us live each day in joy:

Green People founder Charlotte Vohtz shares her top tips for beating stress this holiday...

Take time to beat stress - Simple activities such as squeezing a stress ball or popping bubble wrap, thinking of your next holiday or having a giggle all help towards reducing stress.

Take a five minute break - If you feel stressed, go outside, flick through a magazine or have a power nap.

Breathe slowly - Breathe slowly and deeply for a couple of minutes. Aim to do this several times a day to stop yourself feeling overwhelmed.

Eat a banana - Bananas boost your levels of stress-busting hormone serotonin.

Think of something funny - When you laugh, you boost levels of feel-good endorphins in your body, making for instant relaxation.

Have a good stretch - Raise your arms and stretch them over your head to relax a tense back and stiff shoulders.

Think of a happy moment - If you're feeling stressed and it's making you unhappy, focus your mind on a happy, memorable event in your life.

Hug a friend - Get support from those around you - hug a friend, cuddle your children, or kiss your partner.

Try a one-minute stress reliever - Put the tips of your fingers together, apply pressure and breathe slowly. Count to 60 and concentrate on your breathing.

Quick reminder to "Like" UAEOP on Facebook and follow us on Twitter. Great articles and tips found almost daily on our page. You will love it!

Enjoy this beautiful season of the year as you touch the lives around you at work, at home, and as you smile at the stranger in the check-out line!

Joyeux Noel (France), Merry Keshmish (Navajo), Feliz Navidad (Spanish), Melkin Yelidet Beaal (Ethiopia), Mele Kalikimaka ame Hauoli Makahiki Hou (Hawaii), and Merry Christmas!! A wonderful time of year to "Seize the Day."

In the Hive...

Submitted by Sherry Wilson, CEOE, Editor

Last year our office celebrated National Wear Red Day® (see page 6) by eating healthy veges and cookies (yes, there is such a thing and they are tasty...if you want the recipe, email me). At the top of each hour we met at the back of our office and did one of the exercises in this link --<http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-srv/special/health/workout-at-work/>. They only take a few minutes and it provided us an opportunity to get out of our chairs. You can also Google "workout at work" or "desk exercises" and find lots of other suggestions.

A CNN story from March 2014 entitled "Change Your Typeface and Save Money" tells of a middle school student who focused his science fair project on finding ways to cut down on the cost of printer ink. Suvir Mirchandani says the price of ink is "two times more expensive than French perfume by volume." From his analysis, he figured out that by using Garamond with its thinner strokes, his school district could reduce its ink consumption by 24%, and in turn save as much as $21,000 annually.

I recently heard a RadioWest interview with the writer and cultural thinker Roman Krznaric, who founded the Empathy Library (empathylibrary.com). This is the "world's first online empathy collection and a treasure house for catapulting your imagination into other people's lives." It lists books (fiction, non-fiction and children's books) and films (features, documentaries and video shorts) that will "help us step into the shoes of other people and look at the world through their eyes." Mr. Krznaric has written a book called Empathy: Why It Matters, and How to Get It in which he says "our brains are wired for social connection and empathy, not apathy or self-centeredness, is at the heart of who we are." I'm looking forward to reading more about this topic.

I'm also looking forward to our annual conference in March. We're trying something new having the keynote on Friday evening. So why not invite a family member, friend, or co-worker to an early dinner and then get a boost of energy and ideas from Matt Townsend? Then come back on Saturday for some great workshops and networking. I always feel rejuvenated after attending a conference. I've heard people say they don't attend because they are so bogged down they can't do one more thing or they don't want to give up a weekend. But I think we owe it to ourselves and our health to focus on us once in a while. After all, we can't take care of everyone else, if we aren't taking care of us first.

Gathering Information For Tomorrow

Buffalo, New York will be the site of the 2015 NAEOP Annual Conference. Please mark July 22-25, 2015 on your calendars NOW and plan to attend. The Northeast Area members are hosting this conference.

If you have attended a prior NAEOP conference, you will notice that the conference is scheduled for four days – Wednesday through Saturday – which is one day shorter than in the past. However, you will still be experiencing the fabulous speakers, multiple professional development opportunities, friendship, encouragement, rejuvenation and caring that is always encountered at a NAEOP event.

Discover the "City of Lights" from the Hyatt Regency Buffalo. This downtown hotel, located in the heart of the theatre and entertainment districts, lets you easily explore all the attractions of this vibrant metropolitan area, once known as the "Gateway to the West". The hotel is located at 300 Pearl Street, phone 716.856.1234 (rates: $149)

Keynote Speaker

Dr. Matt Townsend is the founder and president of the Townsend Relationship Center, a relationship skills-building organization. He combines his talents as a coach, teacher and speaker to empower people and companies to connect and communicate more effectively. Through entertainment and humor, Matt teaches life-changing skills that help improve our most important relationships. His humorous speaking style helps him impact a wide range of people in various church and corporate events.

Matt trained for 9 years with the training industry leader Franklin Covey. He earned his Bachelors and Masters Degrees in the area of Communication as well as a second Masters degree in Human Development. He has recently earned his PhD in the field of Human Development. Matt is a weekly contributor to KSL TV's morning show "Studio 5". Matt also has a weekday radio show on BYU radio on Sirius XM 143.

Matt's greatest love in life is his wife Mardi. They have been happily married for 23 years and have 6 children: 1 girl and 5 boys, ranging in ages from 9 to 20.

It's our annual conference time and we are excited. At conference you will be able to purchase tickets/candy for $1.00 each or 6 for $5.00. There will be several donated baskets for you to put your ticket into with the hopes of taking that basket home! PLUS you may purchase our 50/50 tickets for the same price. If you are holding the lucky ticket that is drawn you will take home half of the money that was collected. Get your dollars ready and bring them to conference!! If you would like to donate a basket or door prize we would love it. Contact Jana Varney at Taylorsville High School 385-646-5455.

Conference Workshop Session Information

Saturday Workshop Sessions: (choose one for each session)

SESSION 1

“Blow the Whistle on Asthma”

~ presented by Andrea Jensen, Utah County Health Department

Asthma is the most common chronic illness among children - approximately 53,000 school aged children in Utah - and the number one cause of missed school days. We know that many office professionals are called on to help when the school nurse is gone. This workshop will help staff members learn; asthma basics, what triggers an asthma attack, the signs and symptoms of an asthma attack and what to do during an asthma attack.

“Getting What You Want”

~ presented by Dr. Amy N. Cowan, University of Utah

Dr. Cowan is a practicing geriatrician with a passion for people. Her teaching focus is improving communication between doctors, patients and their families about end of life planning. Just like other important events in our lives, planning for the end of life is as important as planning for retirement or our children’s education.

This presentation will cover ways to formally express your wishes for end-of-life care and medical treatment, explain the paperwork involved specific to Utah, and simple strategies to get organized whether it’s for yourself or a loved one.

SESSION 2

“Google Up”

~ presented by Canyons School District Ed Tech Team

Come learn how the ins and outs of Google Docs. We will learn about Documents, Presentations, Spreadsheets, Forms and Drawings. Learn how to use and share them with your Admin and Teachers. Create surveys for the teachers or parents. Create agendas for meetings and then use the agenda for the minutes of the meeting. Come learn what Google can do for you!

“Social You, Social School”

~ presented by Canyons School District Ed Tech Team

Learn how you can use Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Pinterest and LinkedIn to communicate with your community. Share announcements over social media about the school. Share pictures of what is happening at the school with your parents and community. Learn how to update your LinkedIn profile for your professional portfolio.

Group Workshop

“Dealing With Difficult People”

~presented by Everett Perry, Canyons School District

“What do you mean I can’t have it right now?” “I want to talk to your supervisor!” Has this ever happened to you? What do you in a situation with an angry employee or customer? This course will teach some basic skills on how to get control of a difficult situation and work through it sensibly. What types of personalities act the way they do and how to work with them.

UAEOP Service Project

Our service project this year will be for the UAEOP Judy Anderson Student Scholarship. We’ve given the scholarship to 19 students from around the entire state with eight of those going on to receive a NAEOP scholarship. Your monetary donations will help continue this wonderful opportunity for our deserving students. Anyone who donates will be entered into a prize drawing.

National Wear Red Day® - February 6, 2015

Heart disease is the No. 1 killer of women in the United States, claiming more lives than all forms of cancer combined. For more than 10 years, the American Heart Association has sponsored National Wear Red Day® to raise awareness in the fight against heart disease in women.

Celebrate National Wear Red Day with Go Red For Women on Friday, February 6, 2015. Visit www.goredforwomen.org for more info.

Manage your heart risk by understanding "Life's Simple 7"

Get active...Control cholesterol...Eat better...Manage blood pressure...Lose weight...Reduce blood sugar...Stop smoking

The National Institutes of Health website (<http://www.nhlbi.nih.gov/health/educational/hearttruth/materials/wear-red-toolkit.htm>) has a toolkit and ideas to help celebrate National Wear Red Day 2015.

Rethink Your Drink...by Sherry Wilson, CEOE

I don't remember where I saw this eye-opening science project so unfortunately I can't give credit to the student. I thought it was a great visual to illustrate how much sugar is in the items we drink each day.

On the Sugar & Heart Disease page at goredforwomen.org they relate a study published in the January 2014 Journal of the American Medical Association Internal Medicine. The study says that most US adults consume about 22 teaspoons of added sugars a day. That's more than the recommended amount for women who should only consume six teaspoons or 100 calories of sugar. The page tells the difference between naturally occurring sugars and added sugars and has a list of calories from added sugars from some common

How To Be More Clever Than an ID Thief

Identity theft occurs when someone uses your personal identifying information, like your name, Social Security number (SSN), or credit card number, without your permission, to commit fraud or other crimes and to get credit in your name. Identity thieves are clever and can obtain a victim's personal information in many ways:

- Dumpster Diving
- Phishing
- Property theft
- Smishing
- Spyware

To reduce the risk of identity theft, think of your SSN, financial account numbers, and passwords as the Holy Grail—sacred and powerful. Take precautions such as:

- Don't carry your Social Security card in your wallet unless you need it that day.
- Avoid using public computers to access financial accounts, and use intricate passwords.
- Limit the personal information you share online.
- Shred paperwork that contains nonpublic information.
- If you access financial accounts or shop online, make sure the Web site is secure. Secure sites have an "s" after the http—https://.

Check www.annualcreditreport.com regularly and monitor your credit report and transactions. Keep an inventory of everything in your purse/wallet. For more identity theft prevention tips, call or stop in to Granite Credit Union today. And if you ever become a victim of identity theft, remember that we're here to help.

Thought of the Month:

"It's being here now that's important. There's no past and there's no future. Time is a very misleading thing. All there is ever, is the now. We can gain experience from the past, but we can't relive it; and we can hope for the future, but we don't know if there is one."
